How to call the method named 'myNewMethod' which has been created dynamically and is available inside myClass? I tried something like this: SomeClass.myClass().myNewMethod(); A: You have to define the method as a static method. First, you have to create a class or file with the MyClass. You can simply call it with new MyClass();. It will create a new instance. Then, you have to define a static method. It's done in the way that you do for the normal static methods. There is no need for an instance. public static void myMethod() { //Do whatever you want } Then, you call it like this: MyClass.myMethod(); A: This is very simple... I need to write one more line here and it's done... Thanks for the help guys. int result = myClass.myNewMethod(); 3DS Galaxy Player 2 The 3DS Galaxy Player 2 (stylized as [3DS] GalaxPlayer2) is a 3D handheld game console developed by Kyoto-based A-lima.
